

MAIL ROBBER ROY GARDNER CAPTURED IN ARIZONA

WAS IN ACT ROBBING
SANTA FE MAIL CAR
EN ROUTE TO L. A.

(By Associated Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 16.—The bandit captured here last night at the Santa Fe station following an attempt to rob a mail car, was today identified by finger prints as Roy Gardner, who escaped recently from the federal penitentiary at McNeil Island. According to the police, Gardner admitted his identity.

The police officers also attempted to identify the prisoner as Gardner by a wound in the leg which he was reported to have received from a guard's gun when he escaped from the McNeil Island prison. The police were unable to find the wound. The prisoner maintained that none of the shots fired by guards struck him.

The mail car attacked last night was on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe train No. 170. The robber boarded the car 10 minutes before the train was to leave for Los Angeles. Herman Indersied, the clerk in charge of the car, said he was not looking when the would-be robber ran into the car, and the first he knew of the other's presence was when he felt a gun pressed against his body. Looking around, he found a masked man holding a revolver against him. Indersied, who is 5 feet 2 inches in height and weighs 215 pounds, struck his assailant and took the gun away from him, then sat on him while he waited for officers to respond to his calls. Then the bandit was taken to the county jail, where he said he was "R. P. Nelson of Chicago."

Today Gardner refused to discuss his escape from McNeil Island. He admitted his identity, but when questioned about his escape, said: "I'm not going to tell any more than I have to. What do you think I am, a fool?"

The police this morning said that while nothing of unusual value in the mail was aboard the car attacked last night, a local bank had planned to ship $15,000 from here today, and they believe the would-be robber had been "tipped off" to the shipment, but got on the wrong train. Indersied went out with his car last night. While Indersied was holding the prisoner, the latter said: "Well, you've earned your $5000 tonight," referring to the standing reward offered mail clerks for the capture of mail bandits. Indersied, who returned to Phoenix today, was called to the police station to identify the prisoner formally as his assailant.

As he approached the prisoner, the latter held out his hand and said: "You haven't got any hard feelings, have you?" "I've got a wife and child at home," Indersied replied. "So have I," responded Gardner, and if you had had a gun last night, your wife would have been a widow today. I never hurt an unarmed man. But the next time a gun is stuck against you, you put up your hands—it might not be Roy Gardner behind the gun."

Gardner later told Sheriff John Montgomery and newspaper men the

GREAT OREBODY
AT HORNSILVER
IN ORLEAN MINE

The Orlean mine, operated by the Orleans Hornsilver Mining company, has passed the prospect stage, and gives promise of developing into one of the coming big gold-silver producers of southern Nevada. From an official source it has been learned that the showing on the 700 level is even better than had been anticipated, and while no assay values are being announced concerning values in the ore that is being followed on the hanging wall of the vein from the drift being extended southeast, it is stated that the pinnings are proving a real revelation.

It became necessary to drive the crosscut from the 700 level for 40 feet before the footwall of the Orlean vein was reached, and before the hanging wall was reached it became necessary to drive for an additional 20 feet. The entire vein matter was found to be heavily mineralized. Since then the hanging wall has been followed to the southeast for 15 feet and the showing is improving with every foot of development.

Following the task of cleaning out the 600 level new orebodies have been discovered and the showing almost equals that on the 600 and 700 levels. Crosscutting and drifting are being prosecuted on all three lower levels, and results that are fully up to expectations are reported.

Manager A. L. Scott is now negotiating for the purchase of a 75-stamp mill, which will be moved to the Orleans Hornsilver property in the event that the deal is consummated. It is proposed to have the mill large enough to treat custom ore from the various mines of the district, and the announcement that milling facilities will probably be available within a comparatively short time will be generously received by all interested in the future of the district.

It has been learned that four different companies will shortly be prosecuting active campaigns of development in the district, and that San Francisco capital will be forthcoming to insure the carrying of all plans to a successful termination.

story of his escape and his life since then.

At the county jail Gardner's first words to the sheriff were a warning that he intended to escape if he got an opportunity. He was arraigned this afternoon.

MINERAL COUNTY POWER LINE PUT INTO COMMISSION

The Mineral county power line from Hawthorne to the Simon silver lead mine has been completed, and the transformers are in place. The current was turned on yesterday and everything was found to be in good working order, and within 10 days shipments of bullion will be going out from the Simon property.

The completion of this power line by Mineral county will be celebrated by a jubilee to be held at Mina in the near future. No definite date has been decided upon, but details will be announced within the next few days.

Mineral county bought 48 miles of line from the Nevada-California Power company, and constructed 52 miles between Hawthorne and the Simon district via Luning and Mina. Power is secured from the Jordan plant at Lake Lundy in California, owned by the Nevada-California Electric corporation and operated by the Southern Sierras Power company.

The Simon Silver-Lead company will use at the inception of operations about 200 horsepower, but an announcement was made this morning by Fred H. Meehling, local manager of the Nevada-California Power company, that two other companies headed by P. A. Simon would shortly be cut in for power.

On December 1 the mill of the Candelaria Mines company will be brought into commission, and early next spring it is likely that power will be secured from the Mineral county power line. It will be necessary to construct 16 miles of line before this can be brought about, and it will be decided shortly whether Mineral county will construct the line, or whether the burden will fall on the Candelaria Mines company.

FUTURE HOME SAID TO BE PARADISE OF
ALL OCEAN RESORTSWALKERS MORE THAN PLEASED
CAMP ROYSTON

After spending two days inspecting the new silver camp of Royston, J. H. Walker, Charles H. Walker and Charles A. Walker left this morning for their homes in San Jose, Calif. The visitors had planned to stay longer, but press of business in their home town demanded their immediate attention. They announced they would return in about two weeks to go just thoroughly into the situation with W. H. Royston, vice-president and general manager of the Hudson Mining company, when plans will be announced concerning future development to be carried forward under the company's control.

All three of the Walkers are convinced that Royston will have a profitable life. They believe thoroughly that the new camp will be able to give a good account of itself from a producing standpoint, and also that they will be able to develop the camp into a great silver mine.

The new camp is well situated and modern, and the three men who have nothing at all but their own brains and their own hands to rely on, are sure that they will be able to develop the camp into a great silver mine.

BREMEN, Nov. 16.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and former Emperor Zita are leaving their place of exile on the island of Madeira. The British embassy cable to London today reported that Charles, 50, is the youngest of the monarchs of Europe. He is a member of the royal house of Austria-Hungary, and his wife, Zita, is a member of the royal house of Bavaria. They are leaving their place of exile on the island of Madeira for a tour of the world. They are expected to visit the United States, Canada, and other parts of the world. They are expected to leave Madeira on a ship which will arrive in New York on December 1.

St. Helena is not much smaller than Madeira, but compared to the latter it is a "desert island" in the true sense of the word. It is a small, rocky island, with no trees, no flowers, and no animals. It is a place of great beauty, but it is also a place of great isolation. It is a place where the emperor and empress can live in peace and quiet, away from the eyes of the world. They are expected to stay on St. Helena for some time before they leave for their tour of the world.
